

Howarth Student Oboes

It is important that students have the right oboe to help their progress. The S20c and S40C Oboe models are for advancing players.

The S20C is light in weight and has covered keys making it ideal for the younger student with smaller hands. It is a simplified conservatoire system with semi-automatic octaves, which easily meets the needs of playing to an advanced level. The S20C has an excellent tone and reliable tuning.

The S40c intermediate series is designed for the more advanced player, but remains comparatively light in weight and is therefore suitable for accomplished young musicians. This oboe includes many essential features found on a professional oboe, with mechanisms for almost every trill.
